Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Monday 27 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
A change to more unsettled weather is expected this week.

Today:
Some very wet and windy conditions, with outbreaks of locally heavy rain, will move eastwards across all areas during Monday morning. Sunny spells and one or two blustery showers following by afternoon. Feeling much fresher than of late. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Tonight:
A breezy night with a chance of showers. These mainly affecting far western areas. Some long clear spells are likely for most parts. Feeling chilly. Minimum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tuesday:
A mostly bright morning before clouding over with showers or longer spells of rain arriving Tuesday afternoon. A breezy day and continuing to feel much cooler compared to recent days. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Windy and bright on Wednesday with possible early rain clearing east. Further rain and showers spreading eastwards Thursday and Friday with some brightness. Temperatures near or slightly below average.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.